

The Film Co-op presents ...

"Orwell Rolls in His Grave"

A film and discussion about America's need for media reform.

Asking whether America has entered an Orwellian world of doublespeak where outright lies can pass for truth, this film explores what the media doesn't like to talk about -- itself. Meticulously tracing the process by which media has distorted and often dismissed actual news events, this film presents a riveting and eloquent mix of media professionals and leading intellectual voices on the media today.

Among the cast of characters are Charles Lewis, director of the Center for Public Integrity; Vincent Bugliosi, former LA prosecutor and legal scholar; film director and author Michael Moore; Rep. Bernie Sanders; Danny Schechter, author the former producer for ABC and CNN; and Tony Benn, former member of the British Parliament.

Post-viewing discussion

The discussion will be led by local media reform advocates. Come learn what we can do in North Alabama -- and sign up for a topic of interest. Topics include the fight for public broadcasting, low power FM radio, wi-fi Internet access for low-income areas, the 2006 Telecommunications Act, local access television, bringing independent media programs to our area, and more!
